

RIDBC

Allied Health Services

RIDBC Allied Health Services

Our experienced RIDBC Allied Health professionals work with children and adults who have vision or hearing loss and their families. We also address additional disabilities.

Our Allied Health team offers the latest evidence based clinical practice and therapy services.

The team includes:

Speech Pathologists

for developing communication, language and literacy skills

Psychologists

for identifying developmental and educational needs as well as supporting positive behaviour and learning strategies

Physiotherapists

for developing confidence through improved physical movement, coordination, agility and balance

Occupational Therapists

for addressing coordination, posture, movement and fine motor skills for activities of everyday living

Additional professionals

such as orthoptists and assistive technology consultants for providing assessment and resource recommendations

The RIDBC Allied Health team:

provides standardised and functional assessments with detailed feedback and explanation identifies an individual's strengths and areas for goal setting develops the skills they need to be more independent and confident provides a holistic approach that involves the individual's key support network offers flexibility in where and when sessions take place – at home, educational setting, workplace, day program/group home or an RIDBC site.

offers videoconference sessions for clients not able to attend in person is available Monday to Friday from 8am to 6pm

Makuei has been working closely with RIDBC Allied Health in his transition to school. His speech pathologist collaborates with teachers and parents to develop his speech and language across all environments.

Makuei and his Speech Pathologist

Contact us to see how we can help

RIDBC has over 150 years of experience in helping individuals with vision and/or hearing loss reach their potential.

Contact us to discuss your NDIS goals, assessment and therapy needs on:

 1300 581 391

 info@ridbc.org.au

 ridbc.org.au/alliedhealth

RIDBC is a registered provider with the National Disability Insurance Scheme (NDIS).

Sarah has been working with RIDBC Allied Health to increase her communication independence. Since graduating from RIDBC, Sarah has been supported by the team to implement her skills in the wider community.

Sarah and her Speech Pathologist

© 2020 RIDBC

